Memo

Ministry of the Interior

From: Office of [illegible] [security] to: The Honourable Ministry of the Interior, May its Blessings Continue

The enclosed correspondence [highlighted] with a special mark passes before your eyes; as you notice, the sender is not known at all, and the identity of the secretary of the assembly who has signed the correspondence is unknown to the Ministry of the Interior. If someone is complaining about the lack of security<sup>1</sup>, the practice is to write one's own story to the Ministry of the Interior, without appealing to [or including] one's religion, in order for the necessary action to be taken. It is dependent on Your Excellency's order].
