

[PROVISIONAL TRANSLATION FROM PERSIAN]

[Translator's notes appear in square brackets.]

[Personal information has been redacted.]

[The excerpt below is from the section of the article that pertains to the Baha'i Faith]

[Newspaper:] Jam-e Jam

[Date:] Tuesday, 6 Shahrivar 1386 – 14 Sha`ban 1428 – 28 August 2007

[Issue No.:] 2084

[The cover photo of number 29, special edition of Ayyam, with the title, “Bahaism: the Way It Is”]
Ayyam was published.

The twenty-ninth issue of “Ayyam” [Days], the free-of-charge supplement to the Jam-e Jam Newspaper in the field of contemporary history, was published in 64 pages.

In this issue, first, the festivities of mid-Sha`ban and the blessings of His Holiness the Twelfth Imam on the great Islamic Revolution have been discussed, and then the subject of “Bahaism” has carefully been studied. A vast volume of the intact and untold issues surrounding this ideology and its leaders with supporting authentic historical documents, is printed, in order that all our intelligent and sagacious readers, especially the Baha'is, who intend to “investigate the truth” in its real sense, may become better familiar with “Bahaism; the way it really is”. The unpublished documents, intact and with pictures worth seeing, constitute the topic of another segment of this issue. Look for “Ayyam” today with [a copy of] Jam-e Jam from newspaper stands.